DIRECTIONS.

EACH wrapper of Bee Soap has on it one Big Black Bee. Cut this Bee out and when you have enough to obtain what you want, mail them to us. If you send us wrappers and postage stamps be careful to send just the number of each necessary to obtain the article. Describe exactly what you want, and give its number. Do not write your letters on small scraps of paper. Be sure and send your wrappers and letter together, and see that the right amount of postage is put on your letters or packages. When you send money, amounts of one dollar and less can be sent us in postage stamps. All sums exceeding one dollar sent in any other way than by a Post Office Money Order, Express Money Order, Bank Check or Draft, or Registered Letter, are at sender's risk. Send your full name and post office address to

COLGATE & CO.;

No. 6 DUTCH STREET,

NEW YORK, N. Y.

READ EVERY WORD OF THIS.

The Bee Soap Premium Plan is simply OUR way of advertising. Some manufacturers spend their money on newspaper advertising and on expensive signs posted up throughout the country, which deface nature. We spend our money on premiums which are given away to the consumers of Bee Soap, and in this way you receive the benefit of the money expended. Buy a cake and compare it with any other Soap you may have been using. We began business in 1806, are the oldest manufacturers of Soap in North or South America, and guarantee the quality and purity of BEE SOAP.

The regular subscription price of this paper is 50 cents a year.

This paper has for more than eighteen years stood at the head of all agricultural journals, and its subscribers now number 310,000. And it must be plainly evident that a paper with this enormous circulation possesses some merit; yes, a great deal of merit. It is of absorbing interest, not only to the farmer, but to every member of his household, with its timely discussion from a non-partisan standpoint, on the Tariff, Currency, Immigration and other important questions. Each issue contains in addition an interesting serial story, together with a number of short stories. Of course, it gives the very latest news from the agricultural world, new ideas, etc. The ablest writers conduct all departments. Published twice each month, with 20 to 28 pages each issue.

New-York Tribune.

The Weekly Tribune brings into the homes of its readers, every week, all the general news of the day, and makes a specialty of supplying Eastern readers with a department of short, crisp items of Eastern local news, and Western readers with a special display of local news of interest to them. It contains an editorial page of great ability, which is reinforced by about a page a week of the quaint and masterly writings of the Hon. Roswell G. Horr on topics connected with Labor, Wages, the Tariff and the Money of the Country. There are also book reviews, foreign correspondence, a page of agricultural matters, a page of mechanics and science, whereon any poor inventor in the United States can have his new ideas exploited free of charge, and a profusion of pictures in all parts of the paper, with jokes, love stories, cooking receipts, fashions and other things dear to the heart of woman. Nothing is lacking to make The Tribune an all round, good family newspaper. Sample copy sent free.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

will be divided among Eleven Persons sending us the Best Lists of Premiums before October 1, 1896.

No. 1.—OPEN TO ALL.

$500. will be paid to any one sending us the best list of any ten premiums not in our 1896 Bee Soap Catalogue, suitable for old folks, young people, or children,

No. 2.—FOR MEN.

$150. will be paid to the man or boy over sixteen sending us the best list of ten premiums not in our 1896 Bee Soap Catalogue, suitable for men.

No. 3.—FOR WOMEN.

$150. will be paid to the woman or girl over sixteen who sends us the best list of ten premiums not in our 1896 Bee Soap Catalogue, suitable for women.

No. 4.—FOR GIRLS.

$25. will be paid to each of the four girls under sixteen who send us the four best lists of ten premiums not in our 1896 Bee Soap Catalogue, suitable for girls.

No. 5.—FOR BOYS.

$25. will be paid to each of the four boys under sixteen who send us the four best lists of ten premiums not in our 1896 Bee Soap Catalogue, suitable for boys.

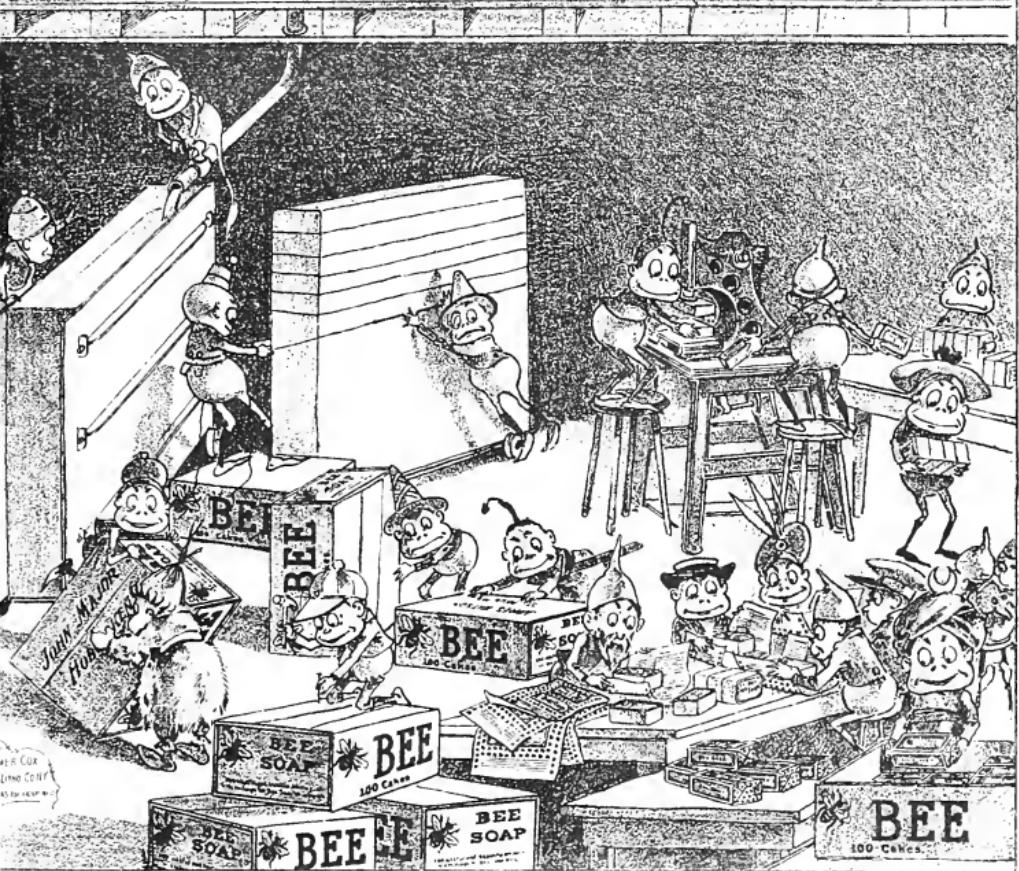

CONDITIONS.—Read Carefully.

1. You can enter only two of these competitions, namely, the first of $500, open to every one, and that of the class to which you belong.
2. The Competition Lists must contain only premiums which can be sent by mail, and which are not in our 1896 Bee Soap Premium Catalogue. The 1896 Bee Soap Catalogue has printed on the front outside cover the figures 1896. Catalogues free at our office, or from any grocer selling Bee Soap, or we will mail one to you on receipt of a two-cent stamp to cover expenses.
3. Put at the top of a sheet of paper the number of the competition you are trying for, thus, No. 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5, then write your list of ten premiums one below the other, and at the bottom sign your full name and Post Office address. If you try for two competitions, use two sheets of paper.
4. Enclose your list in a two-cent envelope, and address it as follows:

COLGATE & Co., Competition Dept., 10 Dutch St., New York.

5. All lists must be mailed to us not later than October 1st, 1896, when we will decide which ones are best suited for premiums in our new 1897 catalogue. The money will be sent to the successful competitors on or before November 1st. The names and addresses of the successful competitors will be printed in our 1897 catalogue; but if you wish to know sooner who has been successful, enclose with your list a postal addressed to yourself, and we will inform you about Nov. 1st.

Our 1894 catalogue was good, 1895 better, 1896 best of all, but we intend the 1897 catalogue to contain the greatest premium list ever published. It will be for the people, and we ask the people by their ingenuity, thought, and experience to help make it so.
